Line Up Announced for Opening Weekend of Swish Live Music and Performances Along the Indianapolis Cultural Trail

INDIANAPOLIS - Indianapolis Cultural Trail Inc today announces the lineup for the opening weekend of Swish Live, a music and performance series on the Indianapolis Cultural Trail: A Legacy of Gene and Marilyn Glick and downtown's civic spaces during March and early April. The opening weekend includes more than 40 performances with many more to come in the following weeks.

Swish Live includes a diverse lineup of Indy's top performance talent that will bring the city's outdoor civic spaces to life. Swish Live is one of the components of the Swish arts and cultural experiences kicking off March 13 in downtown Indianapolis.

"Swish Live is the perfect opportunity to highlight the richness and diversity of Indianapolis musicians and performance artists while providing paid opportunities for local creative professionals," said Kären Haley, executive director, Indianapolis Cultural Trail Inc. "We are excited to host high quality live performances, free and accessible to everyone starting on Saturday, March 13. The opening weekend alone will offer more than 40 different opportunities for people to enjoy some of the best creative talent in Indianapolis."

A schedule is available online at indyculturaltrail.org/swish. Swish Live is a partnership between Indianapolis Cultural Trail Inc and the Arts Council of Indianapolis with creative direction provided by GANGGANG and a team of nine local curators.

Swish will shine a spotlight on the city's creative talent as the city welcomes all 68 NCAA men's basketball tournament teams and fans from across the nation, while employing central Indiana artists who have lost significant income during the pandemic due to event cancellations and venue closures. The Arts Council of Indianapolis put out a public call for artists in February, and received more than 560 submissions. Swish is funded through a Lilly Endowment Inc. grant received by Indiana Sports Corp to create a safe, welcoming environment for local residents and visitors during the tournament.

For news and updates on Swish live music and performances, visit the Indianapolis Cultural Trail website or follow @indyculturaltrail. Additional details about the full Swish arts and culture experience including information on Swish artists and a map of artwork locations, will be available on the Arts Council of Indianapolis website and on social media at @artscouncilindy.
